AMONG THE FARMERS.

A Settin' Hen. When a hen is bound to set,
Seems as though 'tain't etiket
Dowsin' her in water till
She's connected with a chill,
Seems as though 'twas skursely right
Givin' her a dreadful fright,
Tyin' rags around her tail,
Poundin' on an old tin pail,
Chasin' her around the yard.
Seems as though 'twas kind o' hard
Bein' kicked and slammed and shooed
'Cause she wants to raise a brood,
I sh'd say it's gettin' gay
Jest 'cause Natur' wants its way. 'While ago my neighbor, Penn, Started bustin' up a hen; Went to yank her off the nest, Hen, though, made a peck and jest Grabbed his thumb-nail good and stout, Almost yanked the darn thing out, Penn he twitched away and then Tried again to grab that hen, But, by ginger, she had spunk 'Cause she took and nipped a hunk Big's a bean right out his palm, Swallered it, and, cool and calm. H'lated up and yelled "Cahdah!" Sounded like she said "Hoo-rah!" Wal, sir, when that hen done that Penn, he bowed, took off his hat. Spunk just suits him, you can bet, "Set," says he, "goldarn ye, set!" —Jessie York.

The pall itself is without textures—the frayed warp and woof of the emerald robe which made her so attractive last season moldered into a colorless decayed thing. That is why the view is so depressing. Those who make a study of such grueome things tell us there are more suioides committed in the spring than at any other time and 'that an unusual number of these unfortunates are farmers. BOSTON MARKET REVIEW

NUMBER 13.

For Week nding March 17, 1922 Prepared by U. S. Bureau of Markett and Crop Estimates)

DAIRY AND POULTRY PRODUCTS The increased demand for eggs due to the very low retail prices, coupled with some holding back of eggs for hatching purposes and active buying for storage, served to shove prices up sharply. Nearby eggs have been wanted and are up to 32-36c. Western fresh jumped about 3c, selling up to 25-28c, while a few suitable for placing in storage for later needs went out at 26-27c. The butter market gained steadily during the first few days in the week, but is closing about steady with Northern tub butter very short at 40-41c, and prints active at 45c. Western butter was also scarce and most of the larger business was on storage goods. These selling more easily at 32-36c. Cheese prices also joined in the advance, fresh receipts from New York state bringing 21½c and cured Fall made goods selling readily at 24c. The holiday demands for live poultry brought a rapid advance and as sharp a decline, prices dropping down to 30-33c for fowl and 26-30c for chickens at the close. Dressed poultry has been irregular, some styles gaining slightly due to scarcity chickens ranging 32-42c as to size and quality, fowl more active at 32-35c and roosters bringing 25c. The first of the maple products arrived this week, syrup going out up to $2.25 and sugar ranging

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES Trading in moderate volume with pric declines in several lines compensated by advances in other lines. Apples steady, best New York state baldwins selling $8.00-8.50, and No. 1 Maine Ben Davis $5.50-6.00 a bbl. Cabbage supplies at last show signs of cleaning up, Alabama cabbage being higher at $3.00-3.25 pe 100 lb. crate, and Florida cabbage at $1.25-1.50 a hamper. California cauliflower scarce and higher at $3.00-3.25 a crate. Florida celery lower at $2.00-3.00 a crate according to size. Norfolk kale considerably lower at $1.00-1.25 a bbl. Native hothouse lettuce 25c lower at $1.50-1.75 a bu. box. Connecticut Valley nions steady at $2.25-8.50 per 100 lb. sack with supplies at country shipping points nearly cleaned up. Florida oranges higher at $7.00-7.75 a box. Maine octatoes 15c lower at $1.75-1.85 per 100 lb. sack. Texas spinach lower at $1.75-2.00 a bu. basket. Native winter squash higher at $6.00-6.50 a bbl. Native hotfollowing prices a bu. box: Beet greens $1.00-1.25; cucumbers $5.00-11.00; dandelions $2.00-2.25; radishes $3.00-3.25. Hotouse rhubarb lower at 16-17c a lb. Native carrots and parsnips higher at $1.50-1.75 with beets and turnips unchanged at 1.00-1.25 and 75c-$1.00 respectively, a LIVESTOCK & MEATS Trading at Brighton was slow and unmand, the market was steady with few good and medium steers and oxen go-ing at $4.50-6.50, cows and heifers $3.00-5.25, canners and cutters 25c lower at $1.75-2.25 per 100 lbs., while an oversupply of hogs on sale met with slow outlet at $10.50-11.50, which was $1.00 lower on the poorer grades. Lenten season, moderate weather and draggy forequarters constitute depressed factors in fresh beef trade.

Whatever the Weather Outside Is, It Is Springtime Now In This Store.

Our annual exposition of spring fashions is now ready. Regardless of our claims and just pride in past expositions we can conservatively say that this year's showing eclipses all our past efforts.

It represents our greatest efforts and we feel certain the people of Norway and vicinity will give it their approval. One must needs to go some few miles from the Twin Towns to find such large and carefully selected stocks of Dry Goods and Goods Apparel.

But we cannot adequately picture with mere words this exhibition. You must see it, we shall be pleased to show you.

Many late arrivals of new and beautiful things are being added as they come in from day to day adding to the already large stocks.

The exhibits must be seen to be appreciated and we extend to everyone a most cordial invitation to inspect our displays while at their

"Do Your Feet Hurt?"

(By Roberta Lynn.)

Do they make you miserable?

Do they make you wish you could stay at bome and keep off them—chuck work and play—an' everything that keeps you standing on them?

Iney dor I hen it's quite probable you are eating too much—too much meat—more than your blood can handle and "keep cool" doing it. Especially, along with regulation potatoes, bread, etc. A little meat, or a little of some meat-substitute (dried beans, for exambles of the colors of t keeps you standing on them? Then, when you humor them and do good percentage of protein as well), followed by one, two or three—according and disappoint you by continuing to to how hungry your day's activities have

Of course, it's easy enough to blame it allows for plenty of variety. Not only on to the weather—to sigh and say, that, it takes less time and money to pre-"Well, everybody's feet hurt in the summer time."

But coming to that universal conclusion doesn't get us any place—it doesn't rid us of the trouble. Besides, it isn't the sum to prove, then, that it isn't the sum to prove true. Everybody's feet do not burt in isn't meat that causes overheated blood, the summer time. Only those who eat after all. And it isn't-entirely. It's

The moral of picked too green-often so immature it mountain hotels. But no. It's this Don't eat at home the sort of things you is no wonder a good many people refuse to eat thereof, and thus contract indiestion. There ought to be a national slogan, "We want fresh, ripe fruits and vegetables." For the preponderance of starch in unripened produce does make digestion difficult—often psinful. There was a time when tomatoes were considered poisonous, and there are still a good many who look askance at cucum-bers—and with reason, too, when not allowed to ripen. Imagine trying to digest half-ripe watermelon.

Of course, most people can truthfully say they do eat some of the fresh things often thought my mesquite might well as they come along in season. But do have been adorned with a signboard they substitute them for the regulation such as the old inns used to carryheavy things-or just add them on to an already generous menu? Of course, in making a change in diet, you won't be likely to notice any particular difference the first day—and maybe not, even the second-since it always the crops should be harvested and takes a little time to get adjusted to any eaten and when the consumption of sort of new regime. Also, to rid the system of the sluggish, toxemic effects of the old order. But, after about a week, say, in which fresh, ripe fruits and vegetables are more conspicuous on your table than the heavy starches, sugars, oils and meats-why, then your feet will begin to let up.

It's such things as pigs' feet that make our feet hurt, when the thermometer rides high. Not that pigs' feet can never be eaten with impunity in the summer Pick a day in between the hot waves and with the "souse" (as some people call this meat dish) serve cabbage, sweet corn and a combination salad. If dessert seems imperative, choose figs, pears. grapes, or some other uncooked fruit If you add bread, butter, potatoes, gravy, fritters and cake to the above, you have swung the balance to the heavy foods; and invited an attack of-what not? Very likely, aching feet.

I've heard people say they just can't drink milk in the summer—it makes them bilious. Yet they go on drinking it—laboring under the delusion that it is absolutely essential to their well-being. Milk is a splendid food—especially raw Japanese—they use almost no milk.
Until lately cows were almost unheard of in Japan. Yet the Nipponese are, notoriously, a sturdy race. Perhaps it's seaweed, sharks' fins and bamboo shoots that make them so. Personally, I would prefer the milk. And it shouldn't cause me any discomfort, either. Providing I drink only a moderate amount of it on the hot days, when I don't need stoker foods—and also providing I regard it as the "heavy" portion of my meal and finish off with light things.

you have anything the matter with you, it may pay you to compare the butcher's bill with the fruit-vendor's—and do a ttle experimenting. Do you have high blood pressure, do you have headaches, They do? Then it's quite probable

How Firestone Has Reduced the Cost of Tire Service

Size	Jan. 1921 Prices	Jan. 1922 Prices	Reduction
30 x 3 Fabric	$18.75	$ 9.85	47%
30 x 3½ "	22.50	11.65	48%
30 x 3½ Cord	35.75	17.50	51%
32 x 4 "	56.55	32.40	43%
33 x 4½ "	67.00	42.85	36%
33 x 5 "	81.50	52.15	36%

HOW the cost of building quality tires has been brought down to the lowest level in history was explained by H. S. Firestone, President of the Company, to the stockholders at the annual meeting on December 15, 1921.

1. All inventories and commitments at or below the market. 2. Increased manufacturing efficiency and volume production reduced factory

3. Selling costs reduced 38%.

Mr. Firestone stated, "This reduction in prices is made possible by our unusually advantageous buying facilities, and the enthusiasm, loyalty and determination of our 100% stockholding organization. "Due credit must be given to Firestone dealers who are selling Firestone tires on a smaller margin of profit. This brings every Firestone saving direct to the car-

The saving through first cost plus the saving through high mileage doubles Firestone economy and is daily adding new fame to the Firestone principle of service-
